Greentown Liangjiang Royal Garden

Living in a bustling city for a long time can inevitably make one feel a bit crowded and tired. Pushing open the door of their home, the distant mountains with overlapping peaks appear hazy and far away, like a fantasy representation of a traditional Chinese landscape painting. In Chongqing's three-dimensional mountainous city, this natural scenery is rare to find and unique to only a few houses.

Ten years later, a couple with different personalities and hobbies but very harmonious, brought their different needs, preferences, and aspirations for their new home to the designer. The designer combined the owners' requirements and constructed an ideal home that connects ancient and modern elements, integrates Eastern and Western spatial art, and harmonizes humans with nature.

A three-level villa house

A three-level villa house with spacious backyard is a dream house for lots of people. Furniture has always been the key element in a space. The owner was deeply in love with Poltrona Frau and with the hundred years of Italian craftsmanship.

The owner kept a space with the best natural lighting for it. The graceful and charming position of the chair easily makes people think it's an art.

Design should be a decision made after understanding the needs of the customer. After reorganizing the ideas with the renovated equipment, the house is ready for its next mission. The family memories are continued.

The initial encounter with this building remains vivid in memory, as it evoked a sense of tranquility and serenity. It quietly disappeared behind a few ancient and sturdy pine trees, maintaining an appropriate distance from the bustling crowds.

Upon entering, the unassuming and warm temperament became even more apparent. Within the fluid spaces, the changing seasons served as the backdrop, while the architecture itself acted as an instrument. All the interior decorations followed the principles of classic elegance, comfort, and naturalness. They linked together the poetry of daily life and conveyed a profound emotional connection to beauty.

Penthouse The Pearl 1

Situated on the top two floors of a majestic tower with a 360-degree panoramic sea view, this approximately 900 sqm luxury penthouse offers a breathtaking perspective. The residence is spread over two levels, with a white metal spiral staircase featuring wooden steps serving as a connecting element between the two levels, creating a contemporary and refined design.

The interiors are characterized by fluidity and organic forms, highlighting an elegant cylindrical bar with a sea view, located near the dining area.

A notable detail is the creation of large sliding windows that connect the living area to the outdoor terrace, which has been enhanced with a green wall and large pots containing olive and lemon trees.

The skillful use of wooden boiserie personalizes both the common areas and the bedrooms, in perfect continuity with the library at the entrance, designed to showcase unique decorative pieces.

Miami — U.S.A.

architect: Kobi Karp – ASR Construction

Palazzo della Luna

Fisher Island, an exclusive oasis, accessible only by sea with the island's auto-ferry or by private yacht. A tropical paradise where life flows at a relaxing pace, but so close to the vibrant rhythm of downtown Miami and Miami Beach that you can feel their energy. 50 residences developing on 10 floors, designed by architect Kobi Karp and built by ASR Construction. Poltrona Frau was called to furnish the fourth-floor condo, almost four thousand square meters of contemporary elegance. After their elite interiors of yachts, cars and designer furniture, the natural consequence could only be one of the most exclusive residential projects of the world.

Wood flooring, custom millwork, floor-to-ceiling sliding doors provide an abundance of natural light from a 1,729-square-foot wraparound terrace, facing over the Atlantic Ocean, South Beach, Downtown Miami. The residence opens on a library lounge, with a matte-black-oak Lloyd bookcase designed by Jean-Marie Massaud for Poltrona Frau, covered with camel saddle leather and bright, orange shelving.

Cream is the colour theme of the living room, where the Let it Be sofa and a matching ottoman, are a hymn to comfort and relax, while the Isidoro bar cabinet lined with saddle leather represents the spirit of the party. In the master bedrooms, Poltrona Frau besides upholstering the bedside tables, is also represented by its Ginger desk chair, Leplì twill fabric pouf, Nivola love seat and Brera bench at the foot of the Suzie Wong bed.

The light blue of the ocean floods into the same colour guestrooms. One features a king-size bed with Poltrona Frau's Fidelio nightstand and console in camel saddle leather, while the other is furnished with the Aurora Due queen bed, and upholstered headboard. Privacy and comfort, lavish entertainment and exclusive parties. A double soul that Poltrona Frau can fully satisfy in every environment.

565 Broome SoHo

565 Broome SoHo is the result of a collaboration between Renzo Piano Building Workshop, the Paris interior design firm RDAI, and Italian developers, Buzzi & Partners Development. A true architectural dream team, for an exclusive 30-story residential project, made of two glass towers dominating the Hudson River, in SoHo the artistic neighbourhood of New York. Expertise, passion for innovation combined with a profound knowledge of New York's and in particular of the neighbourhood's history. These are the materials on which the project was built, and where Poltrona Frau was called to give its important contribution to the furnishing of an astonishing 17-million-dollar residence.

The Poltrona Frau model unit, N28A is located in the North Tower. With its floor to ceiling glass windows, with rounded glass corners that let you "fly" over breathless views of the city, from the Empire State Building, to the Hudson River, the interiors cannot be less. The apartment can be accessed via private elevator opening on the living and dining room area, where the Albero bookcase by Gianfranco Frattini and Xi suspension lamp – designed by Neri & Hu – immediately define the location's personality, while the Bolero Ravel table surrounded by 10 Isadora chairs, are awaiting the next guests that this remarkable setting deserves.

31 artworks from 10 different contemporary artists, complete the styling of this cream coloured side of the house, flooded with light in the day and with an indescribable atmosphere in the evening and at night. The master bedroom suite includes the Times bed, named after the famous font type, with a custom-made headboard, together with a Club armchair by Renzo Frau. The room faces on a full-length window view over the city that never sleeps with an audacious contrasting relaxing and warm atmosphere.

Wenzhou — China

architect: Womehome

Wenzhou residential project

This astonishing residential project in Wenzhou, China, draws its inspiration from the blue seascape of Biscay Bay. Straight lines with a Bauhaus minimalist style characterize the spaces where all partition walls have been eliminated creating an integrated living environment. With its style and its cross-cultural elegance, Poltrona Frau interprets this freedom of space and communication. The refreshing blue colour soothed by the relaxing tones of grey, works as a trait d'union from Jean-Marie Massaud's Archibald armchair and Bob coffee table to the GranTorino armchair, Let it Be sofa and Ilary coffee tables, combining elegance, design and comfort.

The liquid and interconnecting spaces flow into the dining room, where Poltrona Frau selected their Fitzgerald chairs for their timeless and international allure. Undeniably a living experience, where Poltrona Frau has helped the design team interpret at its maximum the potential of this project, where the abstract art of nature merges with modern design, and shapes the unbounded beauty of nature and life.

Zhejiang, Ningbo — China

designer: Sevtract Design Studio - K. Jiang, H. Zhang
co-creative designer KeWen Jiang, HuJie Zhang

Zhejiang, Ningbo residential project

A three-floor residential project where Sevtract Design Studio called Poltrona Frau for the interior decoration for its timeless but contemporary style. Neutral tones, where different shades of cold and warm grey create a sombre and minimalistic atmosphere. In the living area marble and leather are the imposing protagonists, here we find a sitting zone with the Let it Be modular system sofa and an Archibald armchair, two classic pieces from Poltrona Frau's catalogue, by Ludovica & Roberto Palomba and by Jean-Marie Massaud. Let it Be, as the name suggests is a hymn to relax and comfort, rejecting all forms of conventions and formalisms.

This versatile sofa creates a homely nest, a multi-purpose space to enjoy at your own pace. Fiorile coffee table with marble top and Fidelio small table complete the lay-out. Six Isadora chairs define the dining and kitchen area.

This chair was inspired by the grace of Isadora Duncan, pioneer of contemporary dance and designed by Roberto Lazzeroni, wrapped in Pelle Frau® Saddle Extra leather, with a protective dye and wax, which makes it particularly suitable for dining areas.

On the second floor we find the sleeping area. Here, Roberto Lazzeroni is also the designer for the Ginger armchair. Its refined simplicity offers a comfortable shell shape, right next to the bedside. Elegance, comfort, visionary use of classic materials, like leather and marble confer to this house a suspended atmosphere, where Poltrona Frau meets all the expectations.

Chongqing – China

designer: Jiao Yanfeng
interior designer X. Y. Design, Q. Yongyi, W. Yazhu, W. Ze

Chongqing residential project

“Our lives are inseparable from space, light and order, just like we cannot do without bread and sleep.”

These words by Le Corbusier are the inspiring concept for this residential project in Chongqing. Here is the world away from chaos of the city. Space becomes liquid, divided into just four rooms over a surface of 700 square meters. High-rise ceilings give space to Poltrona Frau's contribution to this elegant and sombre atmosphere. Stable and restrained, the character of the homeowner and his wife, is perfectly presented in the use of neutral tones throughout the house. The living and dining areas are dominated by grey and sand nuances, where daylight comes from the huge floor-to-ceiling windows.

Two adjoining but separated sitting areas create multiple convivial or relaxing occasions, on the left GranTorino sofa and two Archibald armchairs with a round Ilary coffee table in the centre, all designed by Jean-Marie Massaud. A Blue Pallo glass vase by Carina Seth Andersson reflects the light and the moment. In the second sitting room, with a modern white mantelpiece, a Mamy Blue armchair by Roberto Lazzeroni and matching pouf create the perfect reading corner.

From the study to the bedroom, every piece of Poltrona Frau fits perfectly with the house. In the TV area, where grey tones characterise the space, we find the famous Dezza armchair by Gio Ponti in a bright light blue, with a Fiorile coffee table. In the studio room, we find a Lloyd bookcase with a Downtown president office chair, completed by a Leather Pot vase.

The main dining room discovers light and nature through the glass façade over a Bolero table surrounded by Montera chairs (both by Roberto Lazzeroni), while in a second dining room we find a round version of Bolero table with Lazy Susan rotating top. Montera chairs, in white and black and a Fidelio High cabinet complete the scene. Fidelio Notte, Mamy Blue bed and a Nivola armchair, all designed by Roberto Lazzeroni, are the protagonists of the last space, the sleeping area, in the same colour theme that characterizes the entire home: grey, white and sand.

The refreshing blue colour soothed by the relaxing tones of grey, works as a trait d'union from Jean-Marie Massaud's Archibald armchair and Bob coffee table to the GranTorino sofa chair, Let it Be sofa and Ilary coffee tables, combining elegance, design and comfort.

The liquid and interconnecting spaces flow into the dining room, where Poltrona Frau selected their Fitzgerald chairs for their timeless and international allure.

Undeniably a living experience, where Poltrona Frau has helped the design team interpret at its maximum the potential of this project, where the abstract art of nature merges with modern design, and shapes the unbounded beauty of nature and life.

Palazzo delle poste

In the heart of the city, just steps away from Piazza Erbe, Juliet's house, and the Scaligeri palaces, Verona narrates the events of a not-so-distant past through the redevelopment of a nineteenth-century city palace, always known as the "Palazzo delle Poste" (Post Office Palace). Designed in an eclectic neoclassical-baroque style in the mid-1920s, near an adjacent botanical garden, by the renowned Veronese architect Ettore Fagioli, the palace served as the main headquarters of civic postal services until 2019.

The spacious residence not only presents itself wrapped in a cohesive and modern look that coordinates all the different spaces but also distinguishes itself primarily for its uniqueness and wealth of details. Here, you'll find the refinement of customized furnishings, marble and brass accents and iconic pieces from Poltrona Frau. All of this contributes to the flourishing of an innovative living concept: precious, artistic, and personalized.
